Desire - Ordinances Red Cross Issues a Township Against Are Passed Call to Nurses New Bus Line

Many Attend Important Council Meeting

The adjourned meeting of Council last Monday evening passed through the final stages the two desire-ordinances providing for submission to the voters on the ballots at the next general election, on November 4, the propositions to issue $75,000 in bonds for paving certain streets and $100,000 in bonds for erecting a community building and completing the grading and equipment of the play ground. The Community Building ordinance was amended on second reading to strike out the words "community building" and to substitute for them the words, "public building for general borough purposes."

This was done to cover a technical point raised by the borough solicitor, Fletcher Sites, who said that while the law clearly defined and recognized a "public building," there was no such thing in the law as a "community building." This change was purely technical and does not affect the original purposes for which this building has been projected.

Council received a communication from the trustees of the Narberth Civic Association, requesting the borough to take over a note for about $24,000 with which the Civic Association borrowed money more than eight years ago for laying the Narbrook park sewer. Since that sewer was built, the borough has connected other sewers with it and it has for several years been serving a wider group of residences than was originally projected. Councilman Redifer recommended that, as a matter of finance, the note should be taken over by the borough, but felt that before this was done the sewer should be thoroughly examined, because there was some question as to whether it was properly constructed in the first place. The matter was therefore referred to the Committee on Streets and Sewers to examine the Narbrook Park sewer and report at the next meeting.

C. A. S. McClellan, of Woodside avenue, presented a petition having a considerable number of signatures and urging Council to refuse to pass the two desire-ordinances for issuing bonds for street pavements and for the Community Building.

Mr. McClellan, when given an opportunity to speak, said that he and his associates had no feeling of hostility toward the street petitioners, but he felt that the borough should not pay the full cost of paving newer streets on which the residents had bought their property at a lower figure because the streets were not paved. He was opposed to the Community Building enterprise on the grounds of general economy. His petition stated that this building would serve a limited number of people and a few organizations who might, at any time, disband, leaving the building without any rental income.

President Hall explained, in response to Mr. McClellan's remarks, that the two desire-ordinances, and the enabling ordinances which were given first reading Monday night, were not depriving any voter of the privilege of passing on both of these bond issues at the election. He said that, speaking as an individual member of Council, he thought it was always unwise for Council to refuse to give the citizens an opportunity to vote on any such important proposition concerning which there was Headlights.

To assist motorists in having their headlights in shape to comply with the new State law effective September 1, Ray Weiss' garage on Narberth avenue has secured authority to make the adjustments. This station will be convenient to local motorists who have not yet had the focusing done.

$20,000 Property Sold.

Joseph T. Barclay has sold the house, garage and lot 312 Essex avenue, to J. T. Galloway. The holding price was $20,000. Mr. and Mrs. Barclay and their children have been living for some time at Lionville, Pa.

Coming Back.

Mr. John B. Alker, a former resident of Narberth, now living in Ardmore, is building a new home on Haverford avenue. He expects to join the community as soon as the building is finished in the fall.

Is Part of Mobilization Day Plans

Surgeon General Ireland, of the United States army, acting at the request of the War Department, has asked every nurse in Philadelphia and the four adjacent counties, and all women who served in the nursing capacity to report by letter, telephone or telegram on or before Friday, September 12, to the headquarters of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter of the American Red Cross, 1010 Locust street.

"This does not mean active service; it does not mean giving up your work," wrote Miss Clara D. Noyes, chairman of the National Committee of the Red Cross Nursing Service, in a letter issued to the nurses. "But it does mean that you are expected to report to the committee under which you are enrolled, either in person, by letter, telephone or telegram. No nurse need be put to any expense beyond a two-cent stamp or telephone call, or if she has been particularly tardy, she may need to pay for a telegram."

"Regardless of age, occupation, or present physical condition, you are expected to answer on that day exactly as if you were called into active service. Each nurse enrolled in our service appreciates that its primary purpose is a reserve of the Army and Navy Nurse Corps, and therefore should be prepared to answer a call of this sort whenever it may come."

"It does not mean war, but it does mean preparedness and efficiency. On the morning of September 12, or preferably a few days before, answer 'here,' giving your name, address and stating whether you are a Red Cross Nurse, or a graduate, practical or student nurse."

This call to the nurses is the first ever issued in peace time, and is a feature of the National Defense Test that has been prepared for all military groups and citizens of the country. It is the first practical try-out of the peace-time working of the National Defense Test, and the Red Cross has been asked, as its specific contribution, to handle the registration of nurses.

It is estimated that there are 800 enrolled Red Cross Nurses and many additional hundreds of graduate, student and practical nurses in the territory of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter which embraces Philadelphia, Bucks, Delaware, Montgomery and Chester.

Before noon on September 12 the committee in charge of returns is asked to compile a report for the War Department showing the number of nurses registering.

The registration will be in charge of Miss Anna Rogers, director of the Department of Nursing Activities of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter, and of Miss Susan Francis, chairman of the Philadelphia Local Committee on Red Cross Nursing Service.

Robbed at Shore.

J. Edward Nolan, of Robert J. Nash's office, left last Tuesday for a vacation at Atlantic City. He was accompanied by Merritt Heckel, of Elm Terrace, who spent the evening with him at the shore resort.

After Heckel had left for home, "Ed" dropped into a restaurant for a midnight snack, and then sallied forth to hunt for a place to be his headquarters.

Apparently two thugs had watched him as he left the restaurant, for he was suddenly struck down by a blow on the head, and regained consciousness some hours later in a hospital.

The thieves stole $33, an overcoat, a watch and his hat. The doctors at the hospital found it necessary to take several stitches in his ear, injured by the blow.

He spent all day Wednesday trying to find some trace of his assailants, but without success.

Change of Narberth Line Meets Opposition

A matter of interest to residents of Narberth and vicinity was taken up at the meeting of the Lower Merion township commissioners at Ardmore Wednesday night.

Of considerable importance was a petition presented to the commissioners by the Montgomery Bus Company, asking the O. K. of that body on an application to be made for a charter for a new bus line.

The Montgomery Bus Company, which operates the large line on Lancaster avenue, from Sixty-third street to Rosemont, will go before the Public Service Commission on September 8, asking that it be given a charter to run a bus line over the route now used by the present line which runs through Narberth.

Their petition to the commission alleges that the present line is poorly managed, unsatisfactory to its patrons, and that the owner, Vincent Mariani, of Narberth, is in financial straits. The granting of a charter to the new line would imply, of course, the cancelling of the grant to Mariani.

The commissioners, however, could find no basis for the charges made and defended the present line. Peter C. Hess, Bala commissioner, reported a comfortable ride to the meeting in one of the buses, as did James Stretch, of the General Wayne district.

Captain Donaghy stuck up for Mariani's line, stating it as his belief that the township officials should give their consent to no proposition to crowd a man out of business unless definite complaints were in their hands.

On the basis of these remarks, it was voted unanimously by the commissioners to refuse their consent, and the matter now passes to the decision of the Public Service Commission.

"SUMMERLESS YEAR IN 1926-27"

The above headline recently appeared in a Philadelphia evening paper followed by an article explaining why such conditions are to be expected. It was by Herbert J. Browne, of the Smithsonian Institution. His predictions are alarming and if verified would prove to be one of the greatest disasters of history.

For the present month he predicted dry and hot weather with severe droughts. So far as Narberth is concerned, and the same would apply to this section generally, his prediction has not been verified. Precipitation has been ample, while the highest temperature has only reached 95, the highest record at Narberth is 106 degrees. He declares that the winter will set in early and last long. Considering that we have had an excess of temperature each year since 1917, with the exception of the present, it is quite probable that the coming winter and next year may be cold if not severe. In fact there may be several cool years to compensate for the several years of excess temperature.

Precipitation at Narberth since January to the end of July was 34.38 inches, which is well above normal. Excess precipitation for Philadelphia has been about one inch a month for this year. In a country so vast as this perfect conditions for crops in every section have not been experienced. Droughts, hot and cold extremes will continue to be experienced now here, now there. This year New England has had a severe drought and the South to a more limited extent.

And then, as Herbert J. Browne predicts, in 1926-27 will come "the year without a summer," like that of 1816 with frosts, snow and ice in every month in the year.

Perhaps? And perhaps not.

—THE CO-OPERATIVE OBSERVER.

NEW B. AND L. SERIES

The Narberth Building and Loan Association will open a new 7 and 9 P. M., at the Narberth series of stock at its next meeting Thursday, September 4, between Fire House.

This association, with its assets of $750,000 is so well known in Narberth that details as to its standing or method of operation are not necessary.

With about 11,000 shares in force, earning at the rate of 8.4 per cent. per annum an unexampled opportunity is available to the residents of Narberth and their friends to save money systematically and have it earn a much higher return than if placed in a savings account or invested in standard securities.

The solidity of the association is unquestioned for its assets are conservatively invested in real estate, mostly Narberth homes. In its 17 years it has not lost a dollar through bad investments.

Besides the usual shares on which the payment is $1 per month, this association issues early maturing shares at $2 per month.

Take your pencil and calculate how many shares you can subscribe for Thursday night, September 4.

Health Report.

That Lower Merion township is a healthy place in which to live is again shown by Health Officer Reynolds' report. Three cases of contagious disease are reported for the week, two of whooping cough and one of pneumonia.

New Music School Is Formed

Narberth Resident Head Of Main Line Project

A project of deep interest to music lovers of Narberth is seen in the announcement of the new Main Line School of Music, to be opened in Ardmore September 18.

The new project is sponsored by community leaders of the entire Main Line. Adolph Vogel, leader of the Main Line Orchestra, and a Narberth resident, is the managing director of the school, assisted by a faculty picked to a large extent from Main Line towns.

Mr. Augustus J. Loos is one of the vice presidents, and two members of the faculty have been chosen from this community.

To house the school the residence of Dr. Herbert A. Arnold, at 107 Ardmore avenue, has been secured. This building was found to be ideal for the purpose, there being room for nine studios, practically soundproof, in addition to a room 16 by 15 feet for dancing classes.

Faculty.

The piano department of the faculty includes Rosetta Samuel French, of Cynwyd, who studied in Berlin from 1911 to 1914 under Mme. Stepanoff and Dr. Hermann, and later in Boston under Heinrich Gebhard. For three years she was head of the piano department of Evansville College and for two years concertized in the United States.

Clarence Fuhrmann, who made his debut in Philadelphia as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, is well known as accompanist for many eminent artists.

Louisa Hopkins, who with Florence Leonard, had a studio in Bryn Mawr for three years, has been soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra under Muck and Fielder and with the New York Symphony Orchestra and others. She is the author of Music Language Courses for students and teachers.

Florence Leonard, A. B., Smith College, is head of the piano department of the new school. She is noted as a writer and lecturer on Musical Technique, and co-operated with the Philadelphia Orchestra in "Musical Talks for Young People." She is the author of numerous articles and is a teacher in the American Institute of Applied Music.

Charlotte Pennypacker, of Ardmore, has been a pupil of David D. Wood, Ethel Actemus and D.

MARRIES IN LONDON

Word was received last Saturday of the marriage of Miss Eleanor Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Butler, Narberth, to Dr. Karl Julius Holzknecht, Louisville, in Christ's Church, London, July 25.

Miss Butler was a student at Oxford, where she was studying for a doctor of philosophy degree at the time of her marriage. Dr. Holzknecht is professor of philosophy at the University of Kentucky, Louisville. He also was at Oxford engaged in research work.

The couple had known each other a number of years, having met when both were students at the University of Pennsylvania in 1922. At this time Dr. Holzknecht won his Doctor of Philosophy degree, and was one of the youngest men to obtain it. Miss Butler was working for her master of arts degree at the time.

The engagement was announced June 24, this year, but at that time the date for the wedding was set around Christmas. News of their marriage came as a surprise to their friends and families.

Miss Butler sailed for England June 28, on the Majestic, and Dr. Holzknecht sailed a week earlier. At that time neither said anything to their friends about their marriage.

Last year Miss Butler was a teacher in the Philadelphia grade schools. Dr. Holzknecht has been at the University of Kentucky since leaving the University of Pennsylvania. The couple are touring through Europe and will return to this country in the fall. They will make their home in Louisville.

Paoli Beaten.

Narberth stayed in a tie for first place in the second half by defeating Paoli in a hard-fought game, 9-7, Saturday. Vernon Fleck pitched for Narberth and would have had an easy day, but for two errors and two bad plays—missing men between third and home, three safe hits and three fielders' choices.

Omitting the fourth inning it wasn't such a bad game. After the Walzerites hit Jarman for nine safe hits, Paoli changed their battery, Windel and Larkins relieving Jarman and DeShula.

Davis was the first man to face Windel and to the pleasure of all the Paoli fans Gene took three healthy swings and out. Nar-berth got four safe hits off Win-del for a total of seven bases and three runs.

Kane got hold of one for a home run in the eighth. H. Humphries got a double and two singles and Mateer three singles. Buckley, Hartman and C. Humphries played a good fielding game. John Dickie made some fine stops at short.

Ocean City Defeated.

Narberth traveled to Ocean City and added another victory to their long list of wins last Thursday.

George Babb had an easy time on the mound, allowing five scattered hits and striking out eight of the shoremen, while his teammates collected 12 hits. Eppa Yowell and Gene Davis had a good day, each getting three singles out of four times at bat.

Diddy Troutwein got the longest hit of the day—he happened to reach one of George's fast ones for a three-bagger. Barker, the shoremen's rightfielder, was all over the field, accepting six out of six chances.

Manager Walzer was very much pleased at winning from the club which at one time he managed.
Narberth had two ladies, 18 men and five children on the trip.

Every person had a wonderful time except C. Case, who burnt out a bearing going down and Bill Newborg, who happened to be with him. They had to hire a taxi and go to Atlantic City for new parts and about 4 o'clock they came into the ball field with the bats and balls.

The game was then in the third inning with borrowed bats.

After the game everyone had a dip in the sea and from there the party traveled to Red Dooin's farm and had a chicken dinner. It was some dinner. Ask Bill New-sang one of his old-time Irish songs, which was enjoyed very much.

Harry Hollar started first, but did not hold the lead very long, as Case, with a new bearing,
thought of nothing but home.
Fred Walzer traveled in a Pierce-Arrow, Charlie Harnden and his Hudson didn't lose any time on the road. Everyone arrived home safe and are anxious to go again.

A Boulevard.

Residents of this section are interested in the occasional reports of plans for the erection of a boulevard along this side of the Schuylkill from Conshohocken to Philadelphia.

The present road is hard on springs and tempers, and if the hoped-for improvement ever transpires it will be a big advance for the river towns of Lower Merion.

A bridge at Spring Mill has also been urged. There is at present no crossing from West Manayunk to Conshohocken.

NEW HEADQUARTERS

Township to Erect Large Building on Present Site.

Commissioners of Lower Merion township, who have been struggling with the problem for several years, took preliminary action last week looking to erection of a new township building on the ground now occupied by the township headquarters.

All departments of the township government, including the police, according to tentative plans, will be housed in the proposed new structure.

It is to be three stories in height, over a finished basement; to be built of stone and to have a frontage of 100 feet and a depth of 60 feet.

Not only will the township departments at present housed in the township building be provided with suitable offices, but offices are also contemplated for the township treasurer and the real estate assessors.

These officials now have offices in the old office building of the Merion Title & Trust Company at Anderson and Lancaster avenues. The police department is housed in the antiquated station in Lippincott avenue close to County Line road.

Formal action to erect a building was taken up by the commission Wednesday. Last week George C. Anderson, township secretary, acting for the special committee on building, issued advertisements for proposals, to be received up to 3 P. M. on September 10 for erection of the building "in accordance with drawings and specifications prepared by Zantinger, Borie & Medary, architects," 1301 Otis Building, Philadelphia. A copy of the plans is also on file at the township office.

Two purposes are to be served by obtaining the bids now, one to hasten the proceedings and the other to guide the township commissioners in the financing of the building.

Ordinances and other enactments will be prepared during the next week or two and be ready for passage within a short time. No indication is given of the plans of the commission with respect to the "other township lot" south side of Lancaster avenue—the old Becker tract—south side of Lancaster avenue running back to Athens avenue. Some commissioners favor selling this tract, although it has been found to be involved with errors in the original mortgages on which sale to the township was based which might damage the township's title.

Various business men and others in Ardmore were anxious to have this tract, or at least a part of it, made into a small park for the people of Ardmore.

MANY AT RACES

Many local speed fans attended the auto races at the Belmont track last Saturday.

Zeke Meyers earned himself no end of prestige and a brand-new title by coming through with a victory in the 25-mile automobile race for the championship of Philadelphia.

Meyers trailed for the first five miles, but thereafter had things all his own way and piloted his speedy machine home first in the fast time of 23:52 4-5. His victory came as a complete surprise, as he was anything but a favorite prior to the race.

Wolf, Chirano, Chadwick and Johnson were expected to fight for the title among themselves. Johnson was forced to retire from the event because of the trouble, which also ended the hopes of D. Cox, who headed the field for the first five miles.

Chadwick placed second and Wolf third.

Besides the breaking of the track record by Chadwick, Chirano and Wolf, the latter chalking up the best time, the crowd of 10,000 was shocked by the smash-up of Earl Tullis in a preliminary spin. Tullis crashed through the surrounding fence and was taken to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, where he was found to have suffered a fracture of the arm and collar bone. Joe Ruch also was injured in another event, though the total extent of his damage was a badly twisted wrist.

Wolf's record-breaking time of 8 furlongs was 50 seconds flat.

Chadwick, while disappointed in the feature event, came through in the 10-mile class A race, beating Chirano after some exceptionally daring work on the turns. The class B 10-mile race went to Williams, with Crawl, a Philadelphia driver, second. Summaries:

One-mile time trials—First, Elwood Wolf, Philadelphia (F. & J.), 50s; second, Dooley Chirano, Philadelphia (Fred Special), 51s; third, Warren Chadwick, Philadelphia (De Paul), 51 2-5s. Track record broken by all three men for National M. R. A. Former mark, held by E. Wolf, 51 1-3s.

Class A 10-mile race—Won by W. Chadwick, De Paul, No. 21; second, D. Chirano, Fred Special, No. 14; third Zeke Meyer, Peugeot, No. 9. Winner's time, 8:53 2-5s.

Class B 10-mile race—Won by Jael Williams, Deussenburg, No. 25; second, H. Crawl, Marmon, No. 18; third, E. Lantz, Marson, No. 36. Winner's time, 10:12 1-5s.

25-mile Philadelphia championship—Won by Zeke Meyer, Peugeot; second, W. Chadwick, De Paul; third, E. Wolf F. & J. Time, 23:52 4-5.

FOR COUNTY JURY

NEW MUSIC SCHOOL

Hendrick Ezerman. She has been in charge of collegiate music for three years.

Maude Beaudry, in charge of the Voice Department, was a pupil of Charles White, teacher of Helen Keller and Jeska Swartz, and has had wide experience throughout the United States.

Frederick Cook is director of the violin department. His wide experience has included that of concertmaster with Henry Hadley, Nahan Franko and other noted conductors. Mr. Cook has been one of the foremost first violins of the Philadelphia Orchestra for the past 18 years.

John Molloy, a graduate student of Dr. Thaddeus Rich, is also a violinist of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

The cello will be taught by the managing director, Mr. Vogel. He is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, where he received honors in ensemble and theoretical studies. For two years he was cellist with the Cincinnati Orchestra under Eugene Ysaye, and for the past three years has been a member of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Harmony and composition will be in charge of Harry Clay Banks, of Narberth, an organist of note, and winner of several competitions for musical composition. He is a member of the music department of Girard College.

Laura Staley, of Ardmore, supervisor of music in the Lower Merion Public Schools, will be in charge of public school music.

Eurythmic expression, as interpreted in aesthetic dancing, will be taught by Alice Kraft, one of the most widely-recognized exponents of the art. She is one of the members of the famous Noyes group.

It is expected that Governor Pinchot will return the charter by the end of this week, at which time the election of officers and directors will be held. The announcement of the organization will probably be made next week.

DID YOU RECOGNIZE IT?

If Not, Consult Nature Books at the Community Library.

Several weeks ago there appeared in "Our Town" a statement that everywhere throughout the borough the Bouncing Bet was in bloom. From the prominence given the item it could be assumed that the fact was well worth noting and any one who failed to search roadsides and fields for the plant missed a beautiful sight. Queries came then to the Community Library as to what the Bouncing Bet might be and both pleasure and disappointment greeted the answer, according to the appeal made by the flower itself.

Bouncing Bet or Lady Betty is an escape from early gardens. There was a time when it held in them a highly respected place, but when it became too democratic and crawled through fences thus showing itself generally unwilling to be limited in its activities, it was cast out of the garden enclosure and became, not less beautiful, but instead of a flower, a weed.

The study and identification of wild flowers has recently become more and more popular, and to be able to give the correct name is an art in itself. The common names may differ with each locality, but there is always a name for each flower which is recognized by botanists.

The Library has several books to aid in the identification of wild flowers and these may be consulted at the Library or they may be taken home. Matthew's Field Book of American Wild Flowers is one of the best for the amateur botanist, as it describes the flowers in "plain English" and contains many illustrations, most of them colored. "Wild Flowers of New York" with its full plates in color is an invaluable aid in locating a flower without a long search through text. Dana's "How to know the wild flowers," separating the groups according to color, is another book in the Library collection.

People who have had their interest in flower identification aroused or renewed while away on summer vacations will find that their return to Narberth need bring no interruption to that interesting avocation because the autumnal display of wild flowers in this vicinity is as profuse as can be found anywhere. The reference books at the Community Library have, of course, been particularly selected for use in this vicinity and frequent use of them will heighten the interest already awakened.

COUNCIL MEETING

a natural difference of opinion. President Hall's statement was greeted with applause by the large number of street advocates who were in the room.

A. H. Mueller appeared before Council to express his strong disapproval of the zoning ordinance, which was passed at the July meeting. His complaint was based on the fact that his property at the corner of Forest and Windsor avenues is excluded from the business district. He felt that he had been unfairly treated as a property owner and brought out the fact that he was the first Burgess of Narberth and one of the oldest residents. It was explained to him that the zoning matter had been under consideration for more than six months, during which time it had been given considerable publicity in "Our Town" and also by means of notices which were posted on the public bulletin boards.

Mr. Mueller said that he had been in total ignorance of this proposition and felt that he should have been informed individually. President Hall explained to him that Council would be glad to give consideration to his grievance if he would put it in the form of a petition and present it with the signatures of himself and his neighbors.

Speed.

Ray Weiss, our demon Maxwell-Chrysler salesman, is the possessor of a speed boat, which is kept at Westville, N. J. Last week Messrs. John Miller and Charles Funk were the guests of Mr. Weiss at his cottage, and expressed a desire for some speed.

They got it. Funk fell overboard, but a careful inspection afterwards showed that it was a toss-up to decide which of the two passengers was the wetter.
